The Search is On

All beautiful girls with a fabulous personality are being invited to an open audition to star in a music video. Local singer/songwriter Shayne Ross is on the search for a leading lady to be his main squeeze in a video for the hit song 'Take You Home'.

With a smooth, sexy voice, good looks and dynamite personality, it's no surprise that Shayne Ross is gaining fans and widespread attention. Hailing from the east coast community of Mon Repos on the Caribbean island of St Lucia, this singer/songwriter/producer has grown up immersed in the sweet sounds of calypso music, rhythm & blues, hip-hop, reggae and dancehall. All of these genres have influenced his music and the sound that he creates today.

In 2006, the singer showed that he had full command of rhythm & blues when he released the sexy single 'Naked' that had female fans screaming and begging for more. With 'Take You Home', Shayne cemented the fact that he was hot property and could sing or rap like the best of them. Now Ross is prepared to take on the international scene as he films his first music video at the end of July in many breathtaking locations around St. Lucia. The video will be directed by producer Davina Lee who holds a BFA a Film Production and also directs the television show Access Caribbean.

Young ladies wishing to have the chance to star in the video are being invited to the audition today at 10 am at the Village Inn & Spa at Rodney Bay.
